

Which Lift Chair is Right for You?

This printable guide is meant to aid you or your loved one in the selection of a new lift chair. If you already own a traditional recliner, you may provide the measurements in the spaces provided and our staff of experts will find a comparable lift chair that is right for you. If not, just circle the options you desire and call 1-800-790-5104 to be connected directly to a lift chair expert.

Measurement Guide

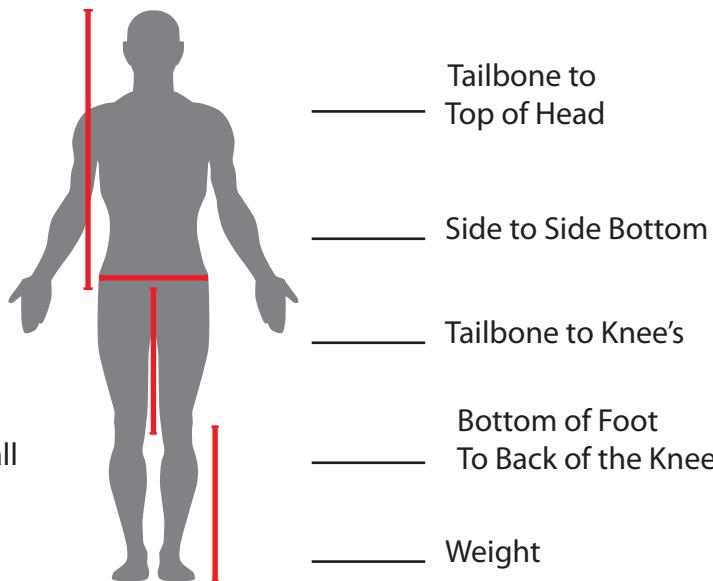

These measurements can help our sales people know exactly what size chair you need!

If you already own a standard recliner that you find comfortable you can simply take those measurements and we can use them to match you to a chair with similar dimensions.

- _____ Back of Seat to Top of Backrest
- _____ Depth of Seat
- _____ Width of Seat
- _____ Floor to the Seat
- _____ Distance from Wall
- _____ Weight

However, if you don't currently have a recliner chair or one that fits you to your liking you can acquire the measurements to ensure that your lift chair will be the perfect fit.

Things to Consider!

The first thing to consider when selecting a lift recliner is how you intend to use it.

- Will you be sleeping in the lift recliner chair?
- Will you be sitting in the lift chair for long periods of time?
- Lastly, consider the space you have available for an electric lift chair.
- Do you have pets you intend to sit with?

- Will you be eating and drinking frequently in the lift chair?
- Do you have any injuries or ailments that prevent you from sitting comfortably in your chair?

These are some things you may want to think about before choosing your lift chair!
